

M&M Manufacturing Acquires Snappy®

CHESTERFIELD, MO – December 15, 2016 – MiTek Industries, Inc. (“MiTek”), a diversified, global business supplying a wide range of engineered products, proprietary business management and design software, and automated equipment sold into the broad construction and industrial end markets, today announced that its subsidiary, M&M Manufacturing, has acquired Snappy®.

Snappy is a leading supplier of metal duct systems for the residential HVAC market, with operating facilities in Detroit Lakes, MN, and Medina, NY.

Snappy will complement M&M Manufacturing, a leading producer of metal products that primarily services the air distribution and ventilation markets. M&M Manufacturing will invest in Snappy’s manufacturing capabilities and operating infrastructure.

“We are excited to welcome Snappy into the family of MiTek companies,” stated Tom Manenti, Chairman and CEO of MiTek. “The combined experience and relationships of both Snappy and M&M will be leveraged across our combined eight manufacturing locations in order to expand capacity and enhance customer service levels. Combining the manufacturing capabilities of M&M Manufacturing and Snappy will allow both companies to better serve our customers and grow in the markets we serve together.”

“Snappy has been a market leader for more than 60 years,” added Rob Felton, President of M&M Manufacturing, “and Snappy’s reputation has been built on a heritage of great customer service, product innovation, and a focus on its people. That’s a perfect fit for M&M Manufacturing, and we look forward to leveraging each others’ expertise and capabilities.”
